

French Watch NRA Program Skeptically

Achievements of Economic Recovery Battle Arouse Comment

By LAMAR MIDDLETON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris (UP)—Scepticism and alarm characterize the French attitude toward the methods of economic achievement in the U. S. National Recovery Act.

Detailed reports are made daily to newspapers here of the NRA's work, indicating the liveliest interest. France is in consequence relatively well-informed. In Washington news recently there is a noticeable absence of the garbled accounts which often color the dispatches of French correspondents in the United States.

Editorial opinion, based upon these accounts, nearly is unanimous that the United States is headed widest publicity is given to every public utterance urging President Roosevelt to inflate.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their currencies, particularly if inflation in the United States is immediately followed by a substantial rise in the commodity index.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their currencies, particularly if inflation in the United States is immediately followed by a substantial rise in the commodity index.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their currencies, particularly if inflation in the United States is immediately followed by a substantial rise in the commodity index.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their currencies, particularly if inflation in the United States is immediately followed by a substantial rise in the commodity index.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their currencies, particularly if inflation in the United States is immediately followed by a substantial rise in the commodity index.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their currencies, particularly if inflation in the United States is immediately followed by a substantial rise in the commodity index.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their currencies, particularly if inflation in the United States is immediately followed by a substantial rise in the commodity index.

For example, columns were printed dealing with Senator Pat Harrison's warning that congress would enact some degree of inflation if the president did not act before December. Scarcely less space was devoted to the fantastic proposal of Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the treasury send airplanes to distribute green-back currency to citizens from the skies.

Part from the scepticism, the alarm in the French attitude springs from fear that inflation in the United States may lead one or more of the remaining gold-standard nations to reduce the metal content supporting their

"Lost Dutchman" Mine May Claim Tenth Victim

Globe, Ariz. (UP)—The quest of J. A. "Tex" Bradford for the famed "Lost Dutchman" gold mine, is believed by friends to have ended with his death in the lonely Superstition Mountains.

Bradford, formerly an electrician at a copper mine here, started a hunt for the phantom gold mine nine months ago and has not been heard from since.

If he is dead, Bradford is the tenth man to die while seeking the mine's site.

Two years ago, the whitened skeleton of Adolph Ruth, pensioned government employee from Washington, D. C., was found with a bullet hole in his skull. He was the ninth victim of the gold quest.

The mine gained its name decades ago when Jacob Wales, a Dutchman, appeared in Phoenix with quantities of fine gold he said he obtained from a fabulous mine in the Superstitions. Efforts to locate it so far have been futile.

CITY TO SELL LION CUBS
Albuquerque, N. M. (UP)—This city is offering three lion cubs for sale at $150. The high cost of feeding the lions is the reason for the proposed sale.

BISSELL FAMILY HELD REUNION

Ruth Bissell Sapp and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bissell of this city attended the first annual reunion of the John Bissell 124 society which was held recently at Bantam.

This gathering brings together members of the Bissell family in commemoration of the immigration of John Bissell to America from England in 1628.

He was the first member of that family to leave England for this country. There were 75 at the event.

which were originally set with diamonds were exhibited. It is said that the diamonds were removed to pay for cattle as ready money was scarce. The links were reset with less expensive stones.

Benjamin Bissell of Seymour was elected chaplain.

SEATTLE — (UP) — Four-time champions of the Pacific Northwest, Seattle Post No. 1, crack American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, will go to the Legion national convention at Chicago, October 2-5, on funds raised by popular subscription.

Judge Gives Friends Shrapnel as Memento

Philadelphia (UP) — Common Pleas Judge Theodore Rosen is giving his friends "something different" to remember him by.

For more than 15 years, since the days of the World War, the jurist has been walking around with pieces of shrapnel in his leg.

Recently his leg began to bother him, so that he had the metal taken out and gave the fragments to his friends as mementoes.

and a leg in France recently was started to play golf.

DOG CATCHER ROUNDS UP DUCKS
Hayward, Cal. (UP)—City Dog Catcher Robert Lee Pace is versatile. Business was slack the other day. A phone panged. Said the voice, "There's a flock of stray ducks hanging around my island."

Pace deserted his dogs, manned a canoe and successfully waded a marine roundup on Lake Chabot. Now the ducks are in the city pound awaiting arrival of their owner.

Hungary's new political party is known as the Stomach party.

Grant's Anniversary 27th Anniversary SALE 1906-1933

CIGAR KING SELLS HORSES

Captain Jefferson Davis Cohn to Concentrate on Tobacco Trade

Paris — (U.P.) — Captain Jefferson Davis Cohn, godson of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States and a millionaire race horse trainer and owner, is selling his stables for the third time and concentrating his efforts and funds toward developing the tobacco business in Havana, Cuba.

"You can't cut a diamond anywhere but in Amsterdam and you cannot roll a good cigar anywhere but in Cuba. Every time we try to do things somewhere else from where they are supposed to be done and are done the best and have been for generations, we come to grief," the English born captain said.

"America owns 80 per cent of the tobacco industry in Cuba, but all the factories there are closed while the work is transferred to factories in New Jersey. I own 19 per cent of the remaining industry and within the last year have put at least 500 employees to work at the trade they know best and are best fitted to ply to perfection. I hope to expand my business."

Sampling Captain Cohn's cigars recently here, the Prince of Wales immediately said, "Send me a thousand of those things. I like them." The king of Sweden is also a devotee of Havana tobacco and are countless other members of international aristocracy.

WATERVILLE

St. Michael's Harvest supper—the most elaborate annual undertaking of any Waterville group—will be served by St. Michael's Ladies Aid society at St. Michael's Parish hall tomorrow afternoon and evening from 4:30 to 8:00 o'clock. Mrs. John M. Lynch, president of the society and general chairlady of the supper committee, had a full meeting of her staff of more than a hundred this week and reports everything in order to serve the large crowd which always attends this outstanding event. An abundance of well-prepared home-cooked foods has always characterized this supper and its reputation has spread far beyond the borders of the parish, hundreds of visitors from other sections of the city always being noted among those in attendance. In spite of the large crowd it is notable that there is almost never any necessity of waiting to be served. This is due to the fact that the facilities of the hall permit the serving of two hundred fifty diners at one time.

Balley Heads Fairmount Club Again
The Fairmount Community club held its annual election of officers at the regular October meeting which took place at St. Michael's Parish hall on Monday evening of this week. Frank H. Balley, was re-elected as president of the club with the following staff: Vice Presidents, Joseph Coggriff, Mrs. Frederick Seidel and Irving Tucker; secretary, Clifford Jones; treasurer, Frederick Seidel. It was voted to install the officers at the next meeting of the club which will take place on Monday, November 13th. Irving Tucker, chairman of the improvement committee, reported on the condition of Fairmount streets, noting the results of the paving program. He also reported that there has been some discussion of extension of bus service to Fairmount by the Connecticut Company, but that nothing definite has yet materialized.

Girls' Club
The Girls' club of Waterville will hold a regular meeting at 8:00 o'clock this evening at the home of Miss Gladys T. Monroe of 38 Wheeler street.

P. T. A.
Thomas J. Condon, superintendent of schools, was the guest speaker at yesterday's monthly meeting of the Waterville Parent-Teacher association, which was held yesterday afternoon at Sprague Grammar school. Mrs. Elmer E. Wilson, president of the association, was in the chair and introduced the speaker, who explained several of the new policies of the board of education, particularly that involving the regular sessions of the high schools. He answered a number of questions concerning various phases of school activity.

The penny collection went to the kindergarten room for the second consecutive month.

It was voted to serve a spaghetti supper, open to the public, at St. Michael's Parish hall, on the evening of Thursday, October 26th. This will be something of a novelty in Waterville and should be a success. It will be in charge of Mrs. Louis Willard and her ways and means committee, which will be assisted by the hospitality committee of which Mrs. Arthur Twelves is chairlady. There will be a joint meeting of the committees at 8:00 o'clock, on Tuesday, October 17th, to complete final arrangements for the supper.

Much of Sicily's great lemon crop remains unsold because it cannot compete with American lemons.

"Men! You're Just in Time!"

To Get In On This Special Purchase of—Men's Cotton Work HOSE

Sizes 10 to 12
Colors: Black - Gray - Brown
2 pr. for 25c

We have about 200 dozen of the 5 oz.

Water Glasses

left out of a shipment of 1,000 dozen. They come in green and pink.

Get Yours Now! ONLY 3c EACH

You may still have the advantage of our 59c

Dress Sale

It will be doubtful if we will ever be able to offer you a similar value. Sizes 36 to 52.

59c

Oil Cloth Table Covers

46 in. square. Will help cut your laundry bill. They are slightly irregular but a marvelous value at Each

Women's Cotton Lisle Hose

We have sold thousands of dozens of these fine quality hose. Reinforced heels and toes. In all the popular shades.

Only 2 pair for 25c

25c

"Fast Going" for Grant's Candy Department

Fresh Roasted Split Peanuts

We bought 2,000 lbs for this special event to sell at 10c lb.

10c lb.

Doors Open 9 A.M. October 12th

Here they are! All GUARANTEED merchandise at TODAY'S "ROCK BOTTOM" PRICES! Buy EARLY, for best selection!

Take Advantage of These Marvelous Bargains! While They Last

October 12th to October 21st

Watch Grant's Windows Daily for Unadvertised Specials!

Don't Shove! Don't Push!

DON'T CROWD

Part Wool Blankets $1.00

Come in plaids—pink, orchid, yellow, rose, blue, green. Size 72x84.

Also come in reversible two color combinations—orchid and green, pink and blue, etc. Size 66x80.

We have a few INDIAN BLANKETS $1.00 for this sale at

All blankets limited two two a customer.

"Mr. Magic Buyer" Urges You to Buy!

Most of the merchandise for this sale was ordered and manufactured before the N.R.A. was considered or in effect. We, the W. T. Grant Co., and most of these manufacturers are N.R.A. co-operators. These prices cannot be duplicated under today's improved conditions!

Anniversary Sale Specials of Children's Garments

Children's Suede Cloth Zipper Suits

consist of
Helmet 39c
Leggings 50c
Coat 50c

Complete $1.39
Colors: Blue, Tan and Red

INFANTS' Flannelette Garments

An assortment of Gertrudes, Sacques, Kimonos, etc. All daintily trimmed.

10c EACH

Boys' Fleece Lined All Wool Overcoat and Helmet Sets

Very warm and a real Anniversary Special.
COAT $1.00
HELMET 25c
Complete $1.25
Sizes 3-6

W.T. GRANT CO.

165 BANK ST. 164 S. MAIN ST.

"On a Non Stop Rush for Grant's"

Sale of Boys' Suits

Sturdily made with a fine quality Broadcloth top and a fine suiting cloth bottom.

ONLY 79c

Women's Rayon Taffeta SLIPS

Roomy, bias cut Rayon Taffeta slips in soft flesh and tea rose shades. Lace trimmed. Sizes 34-44.

59c

Women's Rayon Undies

This will probably be the last time that we can offer an assortment of regular and extra size rayon undies of this fine quality at this low price.

3 for $1.00

Women's Percale Aprons

Fast color Percale aprons. Nicely bound bib-apron style. Many gaily colored patterns to choose from. You can AFFORD to buy a good supply at this price!

15c each

Let Prices Soar!

Even while meeting the demands of the times, your W. T. Grant store still sells you DEPENDABLE merchandise at TODAY'S LOWEST PRICES!

Stevens

All Linen Crash Toweling

These would ordinarily sell for 20c a yard, but due to the fact that this lot consists of remnant lengths it will be

ONLY 12 1/2c yd